GMA signs act outlawing child porn

By Liza S. Indares

MANILA (PNA)—GMA Network signed a landmark agreement with the Philippine Commission on Children's Rights (PCCR) to support the proposed Child Protection Act, which aims to protect children from sexual abuse and exploitation.

The agreement, signed by GMA President and Chairman of the Board, Manuel V. Pangasinan, and PCCR Chairman, Justice Antonio Carpio, is a significant step towards ensuring the safety and well-being of children in the Philippines.

"We are committed to protecting the rights of children and ensuring they are safe from all forms of abuse and exploitation," said Pangasinan. "This agreement is a testament to our commitment to the future of the Philippines."

The proposed Child Protection Act, which is currently being debated in the Philippine Congress, aims to provide a legal framework for the protection of children from sexual abuse and exploitation. It includes provisions for the prevention, investigation, and prosecution of child abuse cases.

The agreement also includes provisions for the establishment of a Child Protection Fund, which will be used to support various child protection programs and initiatives.

"We are confident that this agreement will lead to the passage of the Child Protection Act, which will provide a strong legal basis for the protection of children in the Philippines," said Carpio.

Jinggoy pulls out signature from Villar resolution

By Christine D. Brundage

MANILA (PNA)—Senator Jinggoy Villar has pulled out his signature from a resolution that calls for the impeachment of President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo.

The resolution, which was introduced by Senator Juan Ponce Enrile, calls for the impeachment of Arroyo on charges of graft and corruption.

Villar, who is a member of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Immunities, said that he had decided to pull out his signature because he did not want to be associated with the resolution.

"I am not signing this resolution because I do not want to be associated with it," said Villar. "I am not a member of the committee that introduced it, and I do not want to be associated with it."

The resolution has been signed by several other senators, including Enrile, but Villar's withdrawal of his signature is a significant development in the impeachment process.

Analysts: Obama's China trip shows power shifting

Flavors of Iloilo and where to find them

By Anna Thompson

W

When you think of Iloilo, you think of the city's famous Iloilo City Market, a place where you can find everything from fresh produce to traditional Iloiloan dishes. But there's more to Iloilo than just the market. There's a rich history of flavors that have shaped the city's cuisine, and it's time to explore them.

The first flavor you'll notice when you enter Iloilo is the smell of the sea. The city is built on a peninsula, and the ocean is always just a short walk away. This proximity to the water has led to a cuisine that is heavily influenced by seafood, from fresh fish to shellfish.

Another flavor that is unique to Iloilo is the use of coconut. Coconut is a staple in many Iloiloan dishes, and it's used in a variety of ways, from cooking to baking. The coconut oil is used to fry many of the dishes, giving them a rich, creamy texture.

Figure 1. Schematic representation of the experimental design. The subjects were divided into two groups: a control group and an experimental group. The control group received a standard training program, while the experimental group received a modified training program. The experimental group was further divided into two subgroups: a low-intensity group and a high-intensity group. The low-intensity group received a lower intensity of training, while the high-intensity group received a higher intensity of training. The subjects were then subjected to a series of tests to measure their performance and physiological responses.

The end not soon enough

BY JEFF LABRECQUE
PHOTOGRAPH BY JEFF LABRECQUE

It's a sad day for the world of cinema. The director of the most successful film in the history of the medium, Steven Spielberg, is leaving the industry. Spielberg, 66, is stepping down from his position as president of the American Film Institute (AFI) and as a member of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. He is also stepping down from his position as a member of the National Film Board of Canada (NFBC) and as a member of the National Film Board of Canada (NFBC).

Spielberg's departure from the industry is a significant loss. He has been a major force in the industry for decades, and his work has inspired generations of filmmakers. His departure is a significant loss to the industry.

Chicago

Chicago is a city of contrasts. It is a city of opportunity and hope, but it is also a city of poverty and despair. It is a city of dreams and ambition, but it is also a city of corruption and greed. It is a city of many faces, and it is a city of many stories.
